Dear [NAME],

This Pride month, “No Sides Only Love” means more than ever.

Four simple words that carry extraordinary power. They embody that feeling of walking into a safe and affirming space after a long, exhausting day and feeling your shoulders finally relax.

That feeling is something we strive to create every single day at Encircle.

In a world where LGBTQ+ youth and young adults still face rejection, isolation, and fear, Encircle is a place where they’re embraced with love, affirmation, and belonging. It’s a place where everyone can walk through the door and know: You are safe. You are seen. You are home.

In honor of Pride, we are inviting our supporters to commit to a monthly donation today to help us open more doors and save more lives. Your recurring donation of any amount ensures LGBTQ+ youth, young adults, and their families have the support, care, and community they deserve.

At Encircle, we offer daily programs, drop-in hours, educational resources, and family support services for LGBTQ+ youth, young adults, and their loved ones. We host Friendship Circles where young people build community and connection and we provide life-affirming therapy.

Our licensed therapists offer a variety of therapy services to help navigate life’s most vulnerable moments, and we have parent support groups where families can ask questions, share stories, and grow in understanding

And it all happens in a home. Not an office, not a clinic, but a warm, inviting, beautifully restored house where the welcome mat is always out, because the impact of being welcomed is truly transformative.

This is our mission, our promise, and the foundation of everything we do, because we know being welcomed, seen, and accepted can be transformative. A parent recently shared this:

“My Trans Teen came in for the first time tonight. When he left he was so happy. He said he hasn’t been this happy in over a year. He cried tears of joy.”

In just six years, Encircle has grown from a single home in Provo to a lifeline across the state of care, love, and community. And with your help, we can reach many more.

It’s thanks to our supporters that we are now opening our fifth home, located in Ogden, extending that life-affirming welcome to even more youth, young adults, and families.

Your support this Pride Month helps continue to offer critical services and reach more youth who need to hear: you are loved, you matter, and you’re not alone. And your donation today, whether a one-time or monthly gift, will welcome home more young people and their families to Encircle.

For LGBTQ+ youth and young adults in our communities, having a safe place to go can be the difference between despair and hope, between isolation and connection, between surviving and thriving. In Utah, where LGBTQ+ youth face significantly higher rates of depression, anxiety, and suicide risk, your gift becomes lifesaving.

It means another youth finds their sanctuary, another family rebuilds bridges of understanding, and another community grows stronger through inclusion and love.

From all of us at Encircle, and from the youth and families whose lives you’ll touch, thank you for helping us say those four powerful words to everyone who walks through our doors: No Sides, Only Love.

In gratitude,

The Encircle Family
